Subject: The Dewey-Burdock public comment period ended June 19, 2017

The public comment period for the EPA Underground Injection Control Class III and Class V draft area permits and proposed aquifer exemption issued for the proposed Dewey-Burdock uranium in-situ recovery site ended June 19, 2017; therefore, the EPA is no longer receiving comments for the public record.

If you would like to review the public comments the EPA received during the public comment period, they are now available on the EPA Region 8 Underground Injection Control website:
